Two Arrests and More to Be Made - Breek lyn Lawyer Accused With a Bankrupt Wallabout Market Grecer Who Got Stuff Worth $30,000 for Nothing at All.

Two men who are alleged to have de-frauded wholesale coffee and tea merchants out of goods worth $30,000 since Jan. 15, were arrested yesterday by Central Office detectives and locked up in Police Head-

The prisoners are Solomon Silvern Isaac Goldovitz. They were arrested in the office of Frank Reynolds, a referee in bank-ruptcy, in the Post Office Building in Brooklyn, just after a hearing in the case of Samuel Rosenfeld, a Wallabout Market grocer, who disappeared several days ago after selling as much of the stock in his store as he could dispose of.

A Brooklyn lawyer who was present during the early part of the bankruptcy proceedings in the morning, disappeared later just after a warrant had been issued for him in this borough and while officers were on the way to serve it. A warrant is also out for Rosenfeld, who is said to be he leader of the swindlers.

J. W. Doane & Co., tea and coffee dealers of Front street, are the complainants in the case. Blumenstiel & Hirson, counsel for J. W. Doane & Co. say that Doane's is only one of a number of firms which have been defrauded by the gang

According to the lawyers Rosenfeld rented an empty store at 229 Floyd street, Brooklyn, on Jan. 15 last. He ordered large quantities of tea, coffee and groceries on credit and had them sent there. All of the stuff was ordered from houses with which trouble in getting credit. In all, it is alleged he ordered about $30,000 worth to be sent to the Floyd street store.

As fast as goods were delivered at this store Rosenfeld had them brought over to Manhattan and put in storage. He had an agreement with Silverman & Goldovitz, it is alleged, by which they were to take the stuff off his hands after he got it in store-it is alleged, by which they were to take the stuff off his hands after he got it in store-houses, and see that it was shipped out of the State. Silverman & Goldovitz had no money so they paid Resenfeld for all he would sell them with notes.

Of course they got the stuff from him at ridiculously low prices and had no difficulty in disposing of it at a big profit, although most of it they sold at figures considerably under its value. With the money they got in this way they took up the notes they had given to Rosenfeld. The balance it is alleged, they divided between themselves. Rosenfeld never made any payments to the houses from which he had ordered the goods.

From one house, it is said, Rosenfeld got $6,000 worth of tea and sold it to Silverman & Goldovitz for $4,000. They in turn sold it for $5,000 and after paying Rosenfeld and getting back their notes, had $1,000 to divide between them. Rosenfeld placed his last order for goods to go to the Floyd street address on March 1, and his first on Jan. 15.

Several merchants who insisted on getting their money called in sea Posenfeld.

Several merchants who insisted on getting their money called to see Rosenfeld in his store and he became suspicious. After selling out his stock he disappeared. Investigation revealed the entire plot. Blumenstiel & Hirsch obtained warrants for the grocer and for Silverman & Goldovitz from Magistrate Brann yesterday morning.

They had previously entered a creditor's petition in bankruptcy for Rosenfeld and the case was up before Referee Reynolds yesterday. Silverman & Goldovitz had been summoned as witnesses. They went to the hearing without any suspicion that their part had been discovered. They were placed under arrest after giving their testimony.

BOY WITH A THIRST FOR BLOOD. Killed Several Sheep and Fifty Chickens "Just to See Them Die." NUNDA, N. Y., March 20.—Darley Mornes,

years old, has a strange thirst for blood. He was taken from a home for homeless children in Pittsburg by Mrs. Nancy Redmond of this place, who intended to adopt him. Mrs. Redmond runs a farm near Nunda and she thought it would be a nice was to kill animals about the farm, and he had not been here a week before he had made his presence felt. In one day he killed several sheep and the next day invaded the hencoop and deliberately mur-dered fifty chickens. He used a big ham-mer and his mode of operation was to hit the animals in the head. The discovery the animals in the head. The discovery of the boy's conduct was made by a nei ghoor. Elgie Shaw. With his gun in hand he went to Mrs. Redmond's shed to see what caused the commotion among the sheep. Upon entering he saw young Mornes raise his hammer in the air and brain a sheep. After he had done this the lad looked up, saw the gun, and crying 'Don't shoot," ran to the house. He then made a full confession, saying that he killed the animals "just to see them die."

Per 20 Years a Supreme Court Justice
Here—Sentenced Tweed and Stokes.
Noah Davis, formerly Presiding Justice of the Supreme Court in this district, died yesterday morning at his home, 46 West Fifty-sixth street, of old age and bronchial trouble.

Justice Davis was borne in Haverhill, N. H., Sept. 10, 1828. He went to school at Albion, N. Y., studied law at Lima, N. Y., and was admitted to the bar in 1841. practising law in Gaines and Buffalo he formed a partneship with Sanford E. Church, with whom he practiced in Albion for fourteen years.

In March, 1857, he was appointed a Justice of the New York Supreme Court, and later he was twice elected to the office.

Justice Davis was sent to Congress in 868, and two years later he was appo United States District Attorney for the Southern district of New York by President Grant. He resigned this post to re-sume his seat on the bench in 1872, and oon after his return the third trial of soon after his return the third trial of Edward Stokes for the murder of Jim Fisk, and the trial of William M. Tweed for malfeasance in office were held before him. He sentenced Tweed to a year's imprisonment on each of the twelve misdemeanor courts in the indictment, but later the Court of Appeals decided that this cumulative sentence was contrary to law. Stokes went to Sing Sing for manslaughter in the third degree.

Justice Davis became Presiding Justice

Justice Davis became Presiding Justice in 1874, and when he retired thirteen years later said: "In searching the record of my judicial life I can find no entry that I have decided any cause or matter contrary to my then convictions of right."

From the bench he returned to active practice in this city, enjoying his work as a septuagenarian as well, apparently, as he had a score of years earlier. In his old age he was unusually strong and vigorous. He was a firm believer in moderation in all things and did not drink or smoke. He advocated college athletics and took a vigorous stand against saloons and gambling. In 1894 he joined in an appeal to the churches, the press and the public to put down gambling, and he was always one of those who wished to suppres the saloons. Justice Davis was a Republican and a personal friend of Gen. Grant's difficulty over the Eardingard Ward affair.

personal friend of Gen. Grant, whose counses he was during Gen. Grant's difficulty over the Ferdinand Ward affair. He was a member of the Union League Club, the Patria Club and a charter member of the Bar Association. He was unmarried. The funeral will be at his residence to-night, and the interment will be at Albion on Sunday.

JAMES H. FAIRCHILD DEAD.

Former President of Obertin College Passes Away at the Age of S5.

OBERLIN, Ohio, March 20 .- Former President James Harris Fairchild, the "grand old man" of Oberlin College, died last night, after a week's illness. Death was due to a natural decline which overtook the aged collegian in his eighty-fifth year. His only two surviving children, Mrs. Lucy Fairchild Kenaston of Oberlin and Prof. James Thorne Fairchild of Tabor, Ia., were at his bedside

President Fairchild was a native of Stockbridge, Mass., where he was born Nov. 25, 1817. In length of continuous service no university official in the land outranked him. He was for sixty-three years asso-

him. He was for sixty-three years associated with Oberlin College as student, teacher and chief official of the institution. His parents came to Ohio in the year following his birth.

He entered Oberlin in 1834 with the first freshman class and was graduated in 1838. Three years later he graduated from the Theological Seminary and in 1842 was made professor of Greek and Latin. In 1847 he became professor of mathematics and in 1858 was transferred to the chair of systematic theology and moral philosophy. Upon the resignation of President Finney in 1860, Prof. Fairchild, who was then chairman of the faculty, became President of the university. He retired in 1889 at the age of 72 years, but continued as a teacher in both the college and the Theological Seminary until 1897.

In 1841 Mr. Fairchild was married to Mary Fletcher Kellogg. They had eight children,

MAYOR TAKES QUINN'S SCALP

ORDERS DR. WOODBURY TO RE-MOVE BROOKLYN DEPUTY.

Weedbury Had Stood by Quinn Against Republican and Fusion Pressure and Even Suggestions From the Mayor -Flat Orders Were Another Thing.

Mayor Low sent for Street Cleaning Commissioner Woodbury on Wednesday and instructed him to remove Patrick H. Quian, who has been the Deputy Com-Yesterday Commissioner Woodbury announced the removal of Quinn. This sads a situation that has led to dissatisfaction among the fusionist forces of Brooklyn and at one time, according to common report, was a cause of friction between

Mayor Low and Dr. Woodbury.
Quinn was a Democratic holdover and Molaughlin's County Committeeman. He was appointed by Commissioner McCartney and drew $5,000 a year. The fusionists in Brooklyn have been clamoring for his scalp. They contended that as the re-vised Charter did not provide for a deputy in Brooklyn, Quinn's office was vacant.

Dr. Woodbury paid no heed. The Republican organization in Brooklyn urged place, but Commissioner Woodbury re-fused to listen to the suggestion. Then the Mayor was appealed to and represented the Mayor was appealed to and represented to the Commissioner that it might be as well if he got rid of the deputy. But Quinn was kept on in his place. Dr. Woodbury held that he did his work well.

On Tuesday the Board of Estimate sent a resolution to the Aldermen asking for their concurrence in the creation of the office of deputy for Brooklyn. The Aldermen refused. The Tammany Aldermen wanted to know if Dr. Woodbury had fathered the revolution and learned that he hadn't. ie hadn't.
"When the Aldermen refused to allow "When the Aldermen refused to allow

"When the Aldermen refused to allow the appointment of a deputy for Brooklyn," Mayor Low said yesterday, "I thought that Mr. Quinn's connection with the department should be eliminated." Commissioner Woodbury was equally frank in stating that he acted upon instruc-tions from the Mayor. "I removed Quinn," he said, "on the direct order of the Mayor and I am too good a soldier to disobey orders.

"It is said that the retention of Quinn has led to some unpleasantness between yourself and the Mayor," was suggested to Dr. Woodbury.

Dr. Woodbury.

I have nothing to say regarding that except to repeat that I am too good a soldier to protest against the order of my superior officer."

"Are the relations between the Mayor and yourself in any way strained now?" the Commissioner was asked.

"On the contrary," he replid, "they are charmingly cordial."

"It has been generally understood that you wanted to keep Quinn?"

"I did not care about removing anybody. I simply wanted to work along easily and get the department in shape. The Mayor commissioned me to clean

The Mayor commissioned me to clear the streets and I have tried to do it. You must understand perfectly well that there is no discussion between the Mayor and myself over the removal of Quinn. There is no discussion over anything. We are all harmonious."

William S. Clarke, who has been a district superintendent in the department for the past twelve years and who has for three or four years had charge of the snow removal, was assigned to take Mr. Quinn's place. There was a report around the City yesterday that Deputy Commissioner Gib-son would shortly be asked to retire from the department, but Commissioner Wood-bury refused to talk about that.

ROCHESTER, March 20.—An audience in which Rochester's exclusive society set figured largely, listened to the evidence in the in the Weaver forgery case to-day. Mrs. Alice Weaver, the defendant, was on the stand about all day. She told, without a tremor, how she forged the name of her nother and a bosom friend of the family. Assemblyman Martin Davis, to the $1,200 note. She also admitted forging another promissory note for $5,000 and getting the cash on it. She was enabled to get all the notes that she forged discounted, be-the notes that she forged discounted, because of the high business standing of her husband, and on account of her mother's wealth and social position.

Mrs. Weaver testified that her mother had her baggage packed for a trip to Europe when one of the banks discovered the forgeries. She immediately cancelled her passage and began trying to settle up the forgeries and getting her daughter out of the scrape. Mrs. Weaver was asked if she had intended to defraud anybody.

"I did not," she replied. "I believed that my husband and my mother would make them good."

She said that the proceeds of the forgeries went to pay household bills. Her husband's firm, she said, owns stock worth $3,000,000, and she knew that her husband had a one-third interest.

Steuben County's Candidate for Attorney General.

CORNING, N. Y., March 20 .- The Republicans of Steuben county are pushing along the candidacy of County Judge Frank H. Robinson of Hornellsville for Attorney-General. Mr. Davies has announced that he will not be a candidate for renomina-tion and Steuben county, which is one of the strongest Republican counties in the State, feels that the nomination should come to its learned County Judge.

Billy Ryan and Johnny Burns Fight a Draw. NEW LONDON, March 20 .- Billy Ryan of Syracuse and Johnny Burns of New York fought twenty rounds to a draw at the New London Opera House to-night. Nearly 1,000 persons were present, and the decision was a popular one. Burns was on the aggressive until the fifteenth round when he weakened perceptibly, and the last five rounds were fought at an easy gait. Burns had a couple of narraw escapes from being put out, but the gong saved him in both instances, and he came back strong every time. Neither boxer had strength enough at the finish to do any damage, and the bout ended in a succession of mix-ups and clinches.

A preliminary between Pete Drago of Manchester and Jerry Maher of Hartford was stopped in the fourth round by Supervisor of Boxing Thomas Donahue. Drago would have been out in the third round had he not been saved by the gong while lying on his back. Maher received the decision. London Opera House to-night. Nearly 1,000
